

Medical Science Elective

Healthcare and medical services are among Australia's fastest growing industries. From dietitians to public health experts, occupational therapists to clinical technicians, professionals with the skills to diagnose and treat health issues are in high demand.

If you did this subject, you would cover:

Anatomy - specifically skeleton and muscular system

Communication skills, developing empathy and interpersonal skills

Simple clinical based scenarios to enhance problem solving skills

Biochemistry and Sustainable health such as community action plans and allied health programs

St John's could potentially offer a medical/health Science elective in Year 9 next year, would you be interested in this subject? (circle the yes/no comment)

Yes, I would be interested in doing this subject

No, I would not be interested in doing this subject

Name:

Homegroup: